

Hello. Thank you for taking the time to read my comments.

In reference to RM-10621, my recommendation is to approve the petition without exception.

The amateur satellite service is an extremely valuable resource that ultimately benefits technology, and increases the number of individuals capable of space and satellite communications.

Under this petition, the FCC would modify the pre-space notification to 30 days before launch. I believe that this is acceptable given the difficulty of securing an affordable launch for amateur payloads. Unlike commercial interests, amateur satellites are designed, constructed, delivered to the launch facility, and launched by a non-profit corporation, with donations. Under these circumstances, finding an affordable launch opportunity is difficult. This is largely due to last-minute decisions made at the launch site.

Sincerely,
